

I am in favor of Indiana maintaining its law that prevents tele marketers from calling Indiana residences. Now that Indiana has this law I am enjoying my dinner and family time, where as before the law I was constantly interrupted by solicitation that I did not want. Please let Indiana remain soveriegn in this state decision that protects the liberty and private rights of homeowners who pay their phone bill. Do not let business lobby against this good law that protects the rights of Indiana citizens. Businesses need to go to the web with their presence and present products that are truly needed by consumers. Once again maintain the rights and freedoms that homeowners are now enjoying in Indiana and do not over ride the Indiana law that prevents telemarketers from calling our homes. Thank you! Mark A. Heifner of Angola, Indiana